2006 G-1 Baton Master Instructor Training Conference
Tuscany Suites and Casino, Las Vegas
(Open to Law Enforcement and Security Professionals Only)
May 08-09, 2006

We are excited to announce the 2006 G-Tek Master Instructor Training Conference will be held at the Tuscany Suites Hotel Monday, May 08 through Tuesday, May 09.

The new G-1 expandable baton design is quickly becoming recognized as the new quality standard by many key European Law Enforcement agencies. Since its recent introduction into the US market, the G-1 has received a lot of attention by LE trainers throughout the country because of its improvements in quality, ease of use, and safety features.

The purpose of this conference is to train and certify a group of elite Master Instructors and at the same time serve as an opportunity to establish a permanent dialogue on tactics, technology and use of force between trainers, departments and developers.

The two day program is packed with classroom and physical training and ends with a certification test. However, we still have room for a few topic related presentations, so if you would like to make one, please give us details on the registration form. Topics can include baton field use statistics, baton related injuries, training issues and use of force in general.

Due to the anticipated size of the event, we are charging a $295 registration fee for this year's conference to defray some of the facilities, food, and other costs. This includes a G-1 baton with holster for each attendee. Space is limited – so please register ASAP to ensure your attendance.

Please use the attached form to register for the event and/or apply to make a presentation. All presentation applications are due by April 15.

I hope to see you there.
